

Decision Pattern Analysis

Identity Recode Planner

Purpose

To analyze recurring decision habits and identify whether choices are made from identity, impulse, avoidance, or alignment.

Instructions

1. Log one meaningful decision per day.
2. Focus on decisions that affected behavior, time, energy, or consistency.
3. Do not record trivial choices.
4. The purpose is pattern recognition, not self-judgment.

Section 1: Decision Journal Entry

Date and Time:

[]

Decision made:

Situation/context:

What options were available?

What did I choose?

What happened next?

Section 2: Trigger and State Analysis

1. I was clear-headed when I made this decision: []
2. I was emotionally stable when I made this decision: []
3. I had enough time to think: []
4. I felt pressure or urgency: []
5. I was acting from values rather than impulse: []
6. I felt internally conflicted: []
7. I knew what I was doing and why: []
8. I could have chosen differently if I had paused: []

What emotional or mental state most influenced this decision?

Section 3: Decision Quality Matrix

1. Value alignment: []
2. Future usefulness: []
3. Clarity of reasoning: []
4. Emotional regulation at the moment: []
5. Resistance to impulse: []
6. Consistency with identity goal: []
7. Consequence awareness: []
8. Overall decision quality: []

Decision Quality Score (average): []

Section 4: Pattern Recognition

What pattern appears across this decision and previous decisions?

What type of situations most often produce weak decisions?

What type of situations most often produce strong decisions?

What recurring excuse, assumption, or shortcut appears?

Pattern Name (give this pattern a name):

Section 5: Upgrade Protocol

What should I do differently next time?

If the same situation happens again, my rule is:

One pause I should insert before acting is:

One question I should ask before deciding is:

One boundary I should use to protect future decisions is:

Decision Pattern Summary

Clarity: [] Emotional Stability: [] Value Alignment: []

Future Alignment: [] Self-Control: [] Overall: []

What decision pattern is becoming visible?

What is one decision habit I need to stop reinforcing?

What is one decision habit I need to strengthen?

Final Decision Statement: My decisions are currently teaching me that...
