

Identity Baseline Worksheet

Identity Recode Planner

Purpose

To establish a clear, honest snapshot of your current identity before any transformation work begins. This worksheet measures identity alignment across key dimensions so that progress can be tracked with evidence rather than assumption.

Instructions

1. Complete this worksheet on Day 1 before starting any other part of the planner.
2. Answer honestly, not aspirationally.
3. Use the same version again at the end of the 30-day journey.
4. Do not edit your answers to make them sound better.

Scoring Method (1-10)

1-3 = Very low / not true

4-6 = Neutral / mixed

7-8 = Strong

9-10 = Fully true / highly stable

Section 1: Current Identity Summary

1. How would I describe the identity I am currently living from?

2. What kind of person do my current habits, choices, and reactions suggest I am?

3. If someone observed my daily behavior for 30 days, what identity would they conclude I am practicing?

4. What identity do I want to move toward during this journey?

Section 2: Self-Concept Score

Rate each statement from 1 to 10:

1. I have a clear sense of who I am: []
2. My behavior usually reflects the person I want to be: []
3. I feel internally consistent across different situations: []

4. I know what matters to me most: []
5. I trust my own judgment more than I used to: []
6. I feel like my life reflects my values: []
7. I can describe myself without confusion or contradiction: []
8. I feel a strong connection between my identity and daily actions: []

Self-Concept Score (average): []

Section 3: Value Alignment

What are my top 5 values right now?

1. _____ 2. _____ 3. _____
4. _____ 5. _____

Which of these values are actually visible in my behavior?

Which values do I claim to have but do not consistently live?

Where is there a gap between what I say matters and what my actions prove?

Value Congruence Score (1-10): []

Section 4: Self-Trust Index

1. I keep promises I make to myself: []
2. I follow through on commitments even when I do not feel like it: []
3. I can rely on myself under pressure: []
4. I do not abandon myself when things get difficult: []
5. I trust my decisions after I make them: []
6. I learn from mistakes without collapsing into self-doubt: []
7. I act in ways that strengthen my confidence in myself: []
8. I am becoming a person I can trust: []

Self-Trust Score (average): []

Section 5: Commitment Consistency

1. I usually complete what I start: []
2. I do not break my own commitments easily: []
3. My intentions are usually matched by action: []
4. I can stay consistent over time, not just for a few days: []
5. I know how to recover after inconsistency: []
6. I return to my commitments after disruption: []
7. I am building a reputation with myself for consistency: []

8. My daily actions support my long-term direction: []

Commitment Consistency Score (average): []

What is the most common reason I fail to stay consistent?

Section 6: Decision Quality

1. I make decisions that are aligned with my values: []

2. I do not make important decisions purely from emotion: []

3. I think clearly before I commit to action: []

4. I can distinguish between impulse and alignment: []

5. I usually know why I chose what I chose: []

6. My decisions usually support my future self: []

7. I rarely sabotage myself through avoidable choices: []

8. I am becoming more intentional in how I choose: []

Decision Quality Score (average): []

What type of decision causes the most damage to my progress?

Section 7: Emotional Regulation

1. I can stay grounded when I feel overwhelmed: []

2. I can notice my emotions without being controlled by them: []

3. I recover from disappointment without staying stuck: []

4. I can keep moving even when I feel uncomfortable: []

5. I know what triggers emotional reactivity in me: []

6. I can regulate myself without relying on avoidance: []

7. My emotional state does not completely determine my behavior: []

8. I can return to clarity after emotional disruption: []

Emotional Regulation Score (average): []

What emotional state most often weakens my identity alignment?

Section 8: Environmental Alignment

1. My environment makes good behavior easy: []

2. My space supports the identity I want to build: []

3. My digital environment is not overly distracting: []

4. The people around me support my direction: []

5. I have access to the resources I need: []

6. My routines are designed to reduce friction: []

7. My surroundings contain useful reminders of who I am becoming: []
8. My environment does not constantly pull me away from my goals: []

Environmental Alignment Score (average): []

What is the biggest environmental obstacle to my transformation?

Section 9: Personal Agency

1. I believe my actions matter: []
2. I see myself as responsible for my life direction: []
3. I believe change is something I can participate in: []
4. I focus on what I can control: []
5. I do not blame external conditions for everything: []
6. I can influence my results through disciplined action: []
7. I believe I am an active participant in my transformation: []
8. I feel ownership over my progress: []

Agency Score (average): []

Where do I still give away my power?

Section 10: Identity Gap Analysis

What is the biggest gap between my current identity and the identity I want to build?

What behaviors currently protect the old identity?

What behaviors would prove the new identity is real?

What must stop, start, or stabilize?

Identity Gap Summary (one sentence):

Baseline Summary

Self-Concept: [] Value Congruence: [] Self-Trust: []
 Commitment: [] Decision Quality: [] Emotional Regulation: []
 Environmental Alignment: [] Agency: []

Overall Baseline Score (average): []

What is the strongest area right now?

What is the weakest area right now?

What pattern appears across multiple scores?

What do I need most in the next 30 days?

Final Baseline Statement: I am starting from a place where...
